

Ron Sasso

Ron Sasso, MS, LPC, CBIST has over 15 years of experience in working with people with brain injury including veterans. He spent 14 years running a brain injury rehabilitation program and has presented on various brain injury topics at conferences throughout the region (including presenting at Mayo Clinic and a poster presentation at the International Brain Injury Association's Eighth World Congress on Brain Injury in Washington, DC).

Ron has primarily focused on the social emotional aspects of brain injury with a particular emphasis on awareness and depression, catastrophic reaction, and anxiety. He has been a certified brain injury specialist trainer and has been on the Brain Injury Alliance of South Dakota board since 2006. He has run two marathons while wearing a helmet to raise awareness for helmet safety. Ron is passionate about helping people overcome the challenges and adjustments to brain injury.
